

Disaster related news

SBA To Provide Small Businesses Impacted by Coronavirus (COVID-19) Up to $2 Million in Disaster Assistance Loans

DISASTER PLANNING AND RECOVERY

This page contains selected Internet links on disaster preparedness and recovery. It is not intended to be complete or authoritative guidance on any of these topics, merely a starting place for individuals and small businesses to begin their information search. Please rely on your local, state, or federal officials for official guidance, instructions, and direction, and contact them with any questions that you might have.

Online Resources

Washington SBDC Resources

Business Resiliency Toolkit

State Resources

- Washington Emergency Management Division Business Portal
 - Information regarding business preparedness, recovery, online training, links and news
 - Take the Washington Business Preparedness Survey
 - Use Risk Assessment Tools
- Access Washington Emergency Resources
- Washington Department of Revenue Disaster relief for taxpayers

Federal Resources

- SBA Emergency Preparedness and Disaster Assistance These resources can help small businesses develop a plan to protect their employees, lessen the financial impact of disasters, and re-open for business quickly to support the economic recovery of the community.
- FEMA.gov News Releases
- FEMA Mobile App – Receive severe weather alerts, driving directions to disaster recovery centers, save a custom list RE emergency kit and meeting spot, tips to stay safe for over 20 types of hazards

premiere disaster preparedness training

becoming one of the 40 to 60 percent of businesses that never recover from a disaster by utilizing the resources and reMyBusiness.org

RBI Toolkit The Toolkit is 100% customizable, so it is intended for all types and sizes of businesses. The toolkit is a process to assist you in evaluating and preparing for any type of disaster that was developed right here in Washington state.

The Washington Small Business Development Center, hosted by Washington State University, is an accredited member of America's SBDC. Funded in part through a cooperative agreement with the U.S. Small Business Administration, institutions of higher education, economic development organizations and other public and private funding partners.

